Diamond B Farm: a jewel in Pennsylvania

by Barbara Luna

Sharing a conversation with Glenn Brok of Diamond B Farm is nostalgic, funny and entertaining, but behind his stories there is a hardworking dedicated horseman, husband and father. He effortlessly skips from chapter to chapter in his life in which he has worn the hats and helmets of National Guardsman, exercise rider, jockey agent, trainer, polo player, world traveler and horse breeder. He and his wife Becky live on their farm in Mohrsville which is also home to five stallions, a broodmare band, weanlings and sales yearlings.

Glenn has always loved racing and has honed the fine art of juggling responsibilities in order to be involved in the sport. When he was younger he was a member of the National Guard—his time there including a mandatory two-week summer camp. “I convinced my sergeant to let me spend the camp time at an installation called Fort Indiantown Gap in Lebanon, Pa., rather than in Norfolk, Va. I could be near Penn National and continue galloping horses. I’d check in at Indiantown, gallop horses in my fatigues and riding boots and be back at the fort in time for lunch.”

His connections on the racetrack helped him sell Thoroughbred mares for polo mounts after he learned to play for the Lancaster team. He added jockey agent to his resume when he took on leading rider Bill Nemeti’s book at Penn in the 1970s. In 1985 he was training horses at the old three-quarter-mile oval Commodore Downs in Erie, Pa. He finished third in the standings before he packed up his travel trailer and his horses and moved back to Penn National where Becky was handling the rest of the stable.

“I bought my first farm in Reading, Pennsylvania, when I was 25 years old but I never really got serious about it until I met Becky a year later,” he said. “My wife is pretty amazing. When I am home I just try to stay out of her way.” At 17 Becky was already an accomplished horsewoman involved in 4-H and pony club. She took over the chores of mucking stalls, riding horses and teaching. “Then it was ‘off to the races,’” said Glenn. “We turned the 10-acre farm into a business, giving pony rides and running a lesson program. One day she even came home with a carriage and taught herself how to drive and we got into doing weddings. When I took her to the racetrack she began shed-rowing horses and soon could gallop the toughest ones. She even went to California to learn about equine reproduction. She is the quickest learner I’ve ever met. She says ‘there is no time for sleep—you can sleep when you are dead’.”

It is hard to believe Glenn and Becky sleep at all. Ten years ago Becky told Glenn that they needed to buy a bigger farm. “I don’t know if you can say this,” she said. “But Reading became a different place than when we lived on the farm in earlier years. The real reason I wanted to move was because of all the uninvited characters that would stop in front of our farm which was on a dead end road. Guys would be out there stripping cars, people were in our driveway and one time I had a tractor trailer drive up in the middle of the night and I had to go out and help the driver get it turned around.” The unsavory characters, lack of privacy and need for more space for the expanding business led to the purchase of the Mohrsville property just six months later.

Becky is the force behind channeling all the couple’s energy into purchasing and running one of the most successful breeding farms in the Commonwealth that they named Diamond B Farm. “He said the ‘B’ is for Becky, but I really think it is for Brok,” she said.

As the Pennsylvania breeding program prospered, additional land in Mohrsville allowed them to plan and lay out more pasture, build a foaling barn and breeding shed. “We were the flavor of the month at the time and had a lot of clients, a lot of mares,” said Glenn. “We carry a lot more of our own mares now, it’s like Mares Anonymous, because we still have our older ones, too. It is kind of like having our own retirement program.”

Meanwhile the Broks raised two daughters. Sarah, 26, works for Patti Miller, a former leading trainer and currently vice-president of EQB which supplies performance evaluations for Thoroughbreds “from pre-auction to post-career.” Younger daughter Samantha, now 20, lives in Connecticut and cares for Becky’s Andalusian stallion and her own show horses. Becky is her daughter’s groom at horse shows and raises Andalusians as her hobby at Diamond B. When not working with the Thoroughbreds she still trail rides and does dressage.

Most of Glenn’s travels are to horse sales in the U.S. for Brook Ledge Horse Transportation, for whom he has been working nearly 40 years, currently as their sales manager. His job takes him all over the country to sales with his own horses and for clients. “A former friend from high school ended up marrying into the Gotwals family who owns Brook Ledge,” he said. “Brook Ledge was mostly shipping Standardbreds at the time. The owner, Brad Gotwals, interviewed me and said I was the guy who could take them into the Thoroughbred business.”

Glenn recently returned from a different kind of trip. One of his Saudi clients wanted to visit Dubai and Meydan Racecourse, the home of the world's richest race, the $10 million Dubai World Cup. "What they've done in 13 years is amazing," said Glenn. "They have turned the desert into Las Vegas. Meydan should be one of the Wonders of the World. It is just beautiful. There are waterways that used to be sand, great hotels and a racetrack. The track was closed at the time since racing doesn't begin until October due to 120 degree temperatures during the Dubai summers," he said.

Whether Glenn is on the road or at home Becky happily handles all things farm related and is content to skip the travelling unless it is vacation time. "To relax we do like to go to tropical spots. We recently went to the California coast and have done camping trips with the horses."

With sales season upon them Becky will be on the farm for the next few months over-seeing a small work crew as she prepares the 2015 yearlings for late summer and fall sales and begins working with the weanlings. "We maximize our employee numbers during foaling season but right now I have four or five people. Since we breed all of our own horses to sell I begin working with them as weanlings where they learn to stand and walk correctly. If you teach them as youngsters they never forget and it becomes natural to them."

She also handles all five stallions during breeding and at the Diamond B Open House and Stallion shows that they host in the spring and fall.

Talent Search was Diamond B's first stallion and was bred and owned by Ken and Sarah Ramsey. Becky describes him as a "cool guy, no hassle and he is smart and easy to handle." A winner of over $600,000 with a third-place finish in the Grade 1 Breeders' Cup Sprint, the son of Catienus stood his first season in Pennsylvania in 2010—the Ramsey's fully supporting their multiple graded stakes-placed runner by sending 20 of their own mares to the Broks that year. "All of the mares were in foal to Kitten's Joy at the time and dropped their babies here in Pennsylvania. Talent Search's first foals are 4-year-olds this year," said Glenn.

Uptowncharlybrown broke his maiden by nine lengths in his first start and was considered a Belmont Stakes candidate by trainer Alan Seewald, who would not live to see his colt's disqualification from fifth to last in the third leg of the Triple Crown due to losing a weight pad on the backstretch. Then trained by Kieran McLaughlin, the son of Limehouse was well-placed throughout the Belmont and beaten only three lengths.

Standing his first season at Diamond B after previously standing at Penn Ridge, "Charly's" offspring resemble their sire. "They are smart and they are very athletically built," said Becky. Still owned by Fantasy Lane Stable, who has sent 10 mares to their stallion, Uptowncharlybrown had his own fan club when 25 of the Fantasy Lane partners showed up for the stallion show earlier this year.

"The partners are very loyal to their horse and are a great group of owners. They are definitely living the dream of owning their own horses, as the partnership gives a regular person all the perks of being an owner for a very nominal fee. And now they are seeing their racehorse become a sire and they can be involved in the future of his foals," said Glenn.

Managing partner Bob Hutt says the Broks are an integral part of Fantasy Lane Stable's success. "They are the salt of the earth and just great people," he said. "We also send them all of our turnouts and totally entrust the care of our horses to them."

A precocious 2-year-old and son of Distorted Humor, Got the Last Laugh dead-heated for his win in the 2006 Arlington Washington Breeders' Cup Futurity-G3 in his second career start. With two small crops to race, including two maiden debut winners, his foals "run and run," said Becky. "They always put out a good effort."

Mad Flatter was the back-to-back winner of the Grade 3 Spend a Buck Stakes in 2010 and 2011 and has three yearlings in his first crop scheduled to sell in Ocala with the rest heading to Timonium. "Mad Flatter thinks he is tough and his foals are just like him," said Becky. "His yearlings are independent and don't always care about following their mothers around."

Senor Swinger is a 15-year-old son of El Prado (Ire) owned by Hartley/DeRenzo and Partners PA Venture. A multiple graded stakes winner, he will retire from stud duty this year and live out his life at Michael Blowen's Old Friends farm in Kentucky, leaving an empty stall at Diamond B. "He was a nice horse, a great racehorse, but is getting up there in years and just didn't get enough mares," said Glenn. "He deserves a good retirement which he will have at Old Friends."

Now in his 60s, Glenn Brok seems far from ready to retire. Described by co-worker Andrea Gotwals Boone at Brook Ledge as a "funny guy, full of life and 30 years younger than his actual age," it is difficult to imagine Brok taking any kind of breather between his trips. In August his agenda includes a trip to the Saratoga sales and then home by the end of the month to play host to the three-day open house at Diamond B. Then he is off to the Ocala sales with the Mad Hatter foals followed by sales at Keeneland, Timonium and Louisiana in September for Brook Ledge.

The Diamond B breeding operation, under the name Glenn E. Brok LLC, was among the leading PA-breeders this year with over $68,000 in awards through June. With four young stallions and the search to replace the newly-retired Senor Swinger, Glenn and Becky Brok would probably agree that this is no time to put on the brakes. ❁

Pennsylvania's Day At the Races: Five $100K Stakes On Schedule

The 15th annual Pennsylvania's Day At the Races—a celebration exclusively for state-Bred runners—is set for Saturday, Sept. 5 at Parx. "Pennsylvania's Day at the Races will be held at PARX during its inaugural Fall Festival," said PHBA Executive Secretary Brian Sanfratello. "Purses for the day should surpass $800,000, featuring five $100,000 stakes."

The five stakes offer a range of opportunities, going short and long, on the turf and main track. "The quality of our PA-Breds continues to increase and this year is no exception," stated PHBA President Roger Legg.

Early nominations were due by July 18; a second nomination deadline is Aug. 22.

"Our annual celebration is a special combination of great racing, great idea sharing and great food and gifts for all," said Greg Newell, chairman of the PA Day racing committee.

The Mrs. Penny Stakes for fillies and mares, 3 and up, at a mile and a sixteenth on the turf is once again a major draw, with a total of 37 early nominations. The race was won the past two years by George Strawbridge's Augustin Stable colorbearers—Ski Holiday (2013) and Appealing Cat (2014). Strawbridge is the top owner by number of nominees this year, with five.

Mrs. Penny, the race's namesake, was a superstar on the turf. Bred by Derry Meeting Farm, she was England's champion 2-year-old filly of 1979. She was also a stellar producer, her offspring including stakes winners Northern Park and Mrs. Jenney, the latter dam of Grade 1-winning ship with W.S. Farish). Derry Meeting was also the birthplace of Storm Cat.

The Roanoke Stakes, to be contested at a mile and a sixteenth on the main track, has 28 nominees, including last year's winner Traffic Light and multiple stakes winners Page McKenney and Edge of Reality.

A total of 22 have been nominated to the Banjo Picker Sprint, run at six furlongs on the main track for 3 and up. The race is named for the PA-Bred graded stakes-winning sprinter who won a race each of the seven years he campaigned, for a total of 16 wins and earnings $648,865.

Leading the list is cross-nominated Favorite Tale, Res Judicata, and 3-year-old stakes winner Amplified.

The Dr. Teresa Garofalo Memorial for 3-year-old fillies at seven furlongs on the dirt has attracted 16 nominations, among them 2015 stakes winner Capar Girl. The race is run in the memory of the late PHBA board member and treasurer, an honors graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine who had her own equine practice in Chester County prior to her death at age 47 of leukemia in August 2010. ❁

PA-Bred Unaccounted For.

The Marshall Jenney Handicap for 3 and up going five furlongs on the turf has also picked up 37 early nominations, including winners of the last two runnings, This Ain't No Bull and Merry's Honor. Also on the list is recent graded stakes winner and Grade 1-placed speedster Favorite Tale. The race is named for the famed Pennsylvania breeder whose influence on the breeding and racing industry far extended state borders. A Few Words From the Executive Secretary

An exciting new advertising campaign will be launched the second week of August by the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association which highlights the PARX Fall Festival and the value of PA-Breds. The one minute video (<https://youtu.be/47wUVWIB1c4>) will air nightly on the Saratoga Insider the remainder of its meet and on simulcasting feeds at Woodbine and Charles Town over a six to eight-week period.

"This is an extensive interstate advertising campaign and a much needed step for PA-Breds," said David Charlton, Treasurer and Chairman of the PHBA marketing committee.

Owners and breeders across the Mid-Atlantic region realize the value of a PA-Bred and the Fall Festival is just the cherry on top. PA-Breds will be running for over $100K in an open MSW and $78K in a Claiming 20 including the owner bonus. Restricted races will be $60K for a MSW, $70K for the A1x and the NW2 for 12.5 will be $35K. That, along with $33 million paid to PA-Breds in 2014 and 545 restricted races makes Pennsylvania a better place to breed and race!

XIXIXI – HALF-BROTHER TO AMERICAN PHAROAH – ENTERS STUD AT XANTHUS

Xixixi, a winning half-brother to Triple Crown champion American Pharoah, has been retired to Xanthus Farms in Gettysburg. Bred by Zayat Stables, 4-year-old Xixixi is by Zayat Stable-campaigned Grade 1-placed juvenile Maimonides and the first foal out of Littleprincessemma (by Yankee Gentleman). He will stand his first season for $5,000, or $3,500 to mares foaling in Pennsylvania. Multiple mare discounts are available to approved mares.

A two-time winner at 3 at Aqueduct, including a gate-to-wire score to break his maiden going six furlongs, Xixixi won or placed each of his three seasons to race while earning $83,299. Descending from the Seattle Slew line, Xixixi is a grandson of undefeated champion juvenile colt Vindication, winner of the 2002 Breeders' Cup Juvenile-G1. Xixixi is one of two foals of racing age for Littleprincessemma – American Pharoah, last year's Eclipse Award-winning 2-year-old and a lock to be named this year's Horse of the Year, has won eight of his nine career starts, most recently the Grade 1 Haskell Invitational, for earnings of $5,630,300.

Littleprincessemma sold at last November's Fasig-Tipton Kentucky mixed sale for $2.1 million while carrying her fourth foal.

GRADE 1 WINNER SWAGGER JACK MOVES TO DANA POINT FARM

Dana Point Farm in Lenhartsville will stand Grade 1 winner Swagger Jack for the 2016 season. The 7-year-old, who previously stood in Indiana and has his first crop on the ground this year, is the only son of champion sire Smart Strike to stand in the region. His stud fee is $3,500, with special consideration to Pennsylvania mares.

Swagger Jack was bred by Edward P. Evans from the stellar female line of Prayer Bell. His dam, Lyrical Prayer (by The Minstrel), produced 14 foals, all starters, 12 winners, and six stakes performers. Swagger Jack won five of 18 starts and earned $460,519 over three seasons, with his most important victory coming in the seven-furlong Carter Handicap-G1 at Aqueduct in which he defeated Sahara Sky, Discreet Dancer and Fort Loudon while completing the distance in very quick 1:21.44. He finished second twice in graded stakes company: the one-mile Gulfstream Park Handicap-G2 to Discreet Dancer and Gulfstream Park Sprint Championship-G2 to Fort Loudon.

Swagger Jack is a half-brother to graded stakes winner Tap Dance, dam of stakes winner Mail, as well as stakes winner Grand Prayer, dam of Grade 1 winner Malibu Prayer and multiple graded stakes winner Valid. Another half-sister, stakes-placed Lyrical Ghost, is the dam of Silverside, a champion in Spain and Germany.

FIRST STAKES WINNER FOR SOUTHERN SUCCESS

R Frosty One, one of five foals from the fourth crop of Southern Success, led all the way in her stakes debut to capture the Malvern Rose Stakes for 3-year-old fillies at Presque Isle Downs on Aug. 9 by two and a half lengths. Bred by Gayle B. Gerth Trust and owned by trainer Murray Rojas' Sajor Stable, the bay filly is the first stakes winner for her sire, who stands at Dana Point Farm in Lenhartsville.

Southern Success is a 12-year-old son of Dixieland Band out of My Success, by A.P. Indy, a half-sister to multiple Grade 1-winning sprinter and multimillionaire Affirmed Success who has also produced Grade 1-placed Taste Like Candy. Southern Success is the sire of 22 winners from 29 starters, including $277,856-earner Golden Success. R Frosty One, out of the Unbridled Time mare I'm the Mary, has four wins and never been worse than third in her seven starts, for earnings of $141,803.

Six-figure yearlings at Saratoga

All four PA-Bred yearlings offered at Fasig-Tipton's select yearling sale in Saratoga the evenings of Monday, Aug. 10 and Tuesday, Aug. 11, sold for six figures, for an average of $300,000. Topping the quartet was a striking colt (right) from the final crop of Unbridled's Song out of the Arazi mare Escape With Me. Bred by Blackstone Farm LLC, the colt, a half-brother to multiple graded stakes winner and near-millionaire Unzip Me, was purchased by Fox Hill Farm, Tom McGreevy, agent, for $500,000 out of the Lane's End consignment. His second dam was top-class sprinter Soviet Problem.

Blackstone Farm was also the breeder of the next highest-priced PA-Bred, also a colt by Unbridled's Song, sold through the Warrendale Sales consignment for $300,000. Out of Storm Cat's daughter Rhys from the family of Rock Hard Ten, the colt was purchased by Crupi's New Castle Farm Inc.

Chadds Ford Stable LLC bred a Union Rags colt out of Sapphire n' Silk (by Pleasant Tap) sold by Paramount Sales agent to Helen K. Groves for $250,000. The colt is a half-brother to graded winner Shani-ko and two other stakes performers.

Trainer Nick Zito signed the ticket for a colt by Discreet Cat out of Golden Missile's stakes-winning daughter Ginger Bay bred by Blackstone Farm. Zito spent $150,000 for the half-brother to graded stakes-placed 3-year-old Frammento, whom he trains.

Parx's Fall Festival kicks off Aug. 29

The $20-million Parx Racing® Fall Festival, which doubles purse levels over eight weeks this fall, begins on Saturday, Aug. 29, and continues through Oct. 20.

Parx and the PTHA have created a signature racing meet expected to attract top horse racing talent in the industry, increase field size of the races, enhance betting interest, and draw new fans to the legendary track.

During the Fall Festival, PA-Bred restricted races are jumping to levels of $74,000 for A2X, $70,000 A1X, $60,000 MSW and $35,000 for Claiming 12.5 N2. Open races are worth as much as $120,000 (including the owner bonus).

Summer construction break at Parx

Following its live program on Tuesday, Aug. 11, Parx will suspend live racing for two weeks while a construction project to build a new paddock is completed. Live racing will resume Saturday, Aug. 29 as the track prepares for its huge fall schedule.

Upon opening again on the 29th, the feature race that day will be the Grade 3 Smarty Jones Stakes. The race is the track's local prep for the Grade 2 Pennsylvania Derby. In recent years the Smarty Jones had been run on Labor Day, but was moved up this year to enable the horses competing to have ample time between races if they want to consider the Derby as their next option. The PA Derby this year is set for Saturday, Sept. 19, which would have left the Smarty Jones runners just 12 days between races if the date had not been changed.

During the shutdown, simulcast racing will not be affected. The track will continue to offer its full slate of racing from around the country seven days a week.

Leematt Stakes

Fitzhugh LLC's homebred 5-year-old gelding Dynamic Strike recorded his first stakes win in nearly two and a half years with a gritty performance in the Leematt, contested at one mile over the Tapeta surface on July 12. The chestnut son of Smart Strike trained by Michael J. Trombetta was making his first start at Presque Isle, and defeated veteran Roadhog and odds-on favorite Forward Thinker to get the win.

Dynamic Strike went through an 18-race winless streak after taking the Miracle Wood Stakes at Laurel Park for the late trainer Dickie Small in February 2013. He finally broke through with an allowance score at Pimlico in May, then followed with the Leematt, taking his record to 24-5-4-2 for earnings of $225,120.

Northern Fling Stakes

The second stakes race on Presque Isle's July 12 card was won by Bernard G. Schaeffer's Henny Jenney, a 4-year-old daughter of Henny Hughes trained by William R. Connelly. The well-travelled filly has an enviable record at Presque Isle, recording four wins in five starts at the track, including two stakes.

Henny Jenney had to get past 1.20-1 favorite and early leader Power of Snunner in the stretch to get the victory in the one-mile Northern Fling, pulling ahead to win by three-quarters of a length. Last year Henny Jenney won Presque Isle's Inaugural Stakes and placed in Churchill Downs' Grade 3 Dogwood Stakes and the Ocala Training Center's OBS Sprint Stakes. She was off the board in her three previous outings this year before recording her fifth career win.

Crowd Pleaser Handicap

The year didn't start off well for Saham, but he has made a quick recovery, getting his first stakes win at Parx on July 25 in the Crowd Pleaser.

The Lemon Drop Kid colt bred by Everest Stables Inc. and purchased by owner Chad Schumer for $100,000 out of the Keeneland April 2-year-old sale in 2014 placed in both his starts at 2, and was sent off as favorite in his first start at 3, a maiden special weight at Gulfstream Park. But he ducked in at the start and lost his rider.

A winner next time out at Gulfstream, Saham has raced in stakes company in three of his four starts since. He rated off the pace in the mile and a sixteenth Crowd Pleaser run over a firm turf, took charge heading into the stretch, and edged away to a two and a quarter-length win as the 1.30-1 favorite in the field of nine 3-year-olds.

Power by Far Handicap

The co-feature at Parx on July 25 was won by Knew Stable's Kiss the Daddy, making her stakes debut in her 33rd career start. The 5-year-old daughter of Scat Daddy, a veteran of allowance and starter races, went off as third choice in the field of 10 fillies and mares, worked her way out after being steadied on the far turn got the lead late in the five-furlong turf test to win by three-quarters of a length.

Racing exclusively at Parx since making her career debut at Aqueduct in February 2013, Kiss the Daddy is on a three-race win streak after taking a starter allowance on June 16 and an allowance on July 5. In 10 starts this year, she has recorded three wins and five thirds.

Kiss the Daddy's dam Kiss the Breeze (by Kafwain) is a half-sister to multiple stakes winner Kiss to Remember, winner of Gulfstream Park's Monroe Handicap on the same afternoon as the Power by Far.

Malvern Rose Stakes

Sajor Stable's R Frosty One didn't make her first start until this past March, but has proven to be a talented filly, winning four of her seven starts, finishing second twice and third once while earning $141,803. The Murray Rojas-trainee made her stakes debut in Presque Isle's Malvern Rose Stakes on Aug. 9, her first trip to the Erie track, and dominated, leading at every call, turning back a challenge by Zig Zag in the stretch, and drawing off to win the stakes for 3-year-old fillies by two and a half lengths. Her time for the mile and a sixteenth was a solid 1:44.22.

A daughter of Pennsylvania stallion Southern Success, who now stands at Dana Point Farm in Lenhartsville, R Frosty One was bred by Gayle B. Gerth Trust. A California business woman, Gerth has owned and operated Dana Point Farm since 2008, and not only has stood Southern Success but also the late Wiseman's Ferry, sire of Eclipse Award-winning Horse of the Year Wise Dan.

R Frosty One is the first stakes winner bred by Gerth, who still owns the dam I'm the Mary (by Unbridled Time). The mare's first foal, 5-year-old Ur Joshn Me (by Wiseman's Ferry), was second in four of his five career starts. The mare also has a yearling filly by Afleet Alex.

Blasts From The Past

STORM CAT

1983, Storm Bird—Terlingua, by Secretariat. Bred and owned by William T. Young; trained by Jonathan Sheppard. Foaled at Derry Meeting Farm, Cochranville.

Top 2-year-old

Storm Cat was one of the most sensational 2-year-old performers ever spawned in Pennsylvania, winning the Grade 1 Young America Stakes en route to a cliffhanger in the 1985 Breeders' Cup Juvenile-G1, which he lost by a nose to Tasso. The Jonathan Sheppard-trainee was weighted at 124 pounds on the Experimental Handicap, two less than co-highweights Tasso and Ogygian. He earned $570,610 from eight starts, of which he won four and was second in three others. But those feats have been largely overshadowed by his accomplishments as a sire.

Legendary sire

Making his career at Overbrook Farm in Kentucky, Storm Cat ranked among the nation's perennial leading sires, with nearly 200 stakes winners from 21 crops, more than 100 of them graded/group performers, including such champions or classic winners as Giant's Causeway, Storm Flag Flying, Sweet Catomine and Tabasco Cat. During his stud career he topped the ranks as North America's leading sire, leading juvenile sire and leading broodmare sire.

Another chapter

Storm Cat died at age 30 on April 24, 2013. But he left a legacy with his sons and daughters. His name regularly appears up close in pedigrees, through such top-class sons at stud as champion sires Giant's Causeway, Tale of the Cat and Stormy Atlantic. His daughters have been a wellspring of quality foals, producing the likes of recent Grade 1 stars as Shared Belief, Close Hatches, Bodemeister and this year's Whitney and Metropolitan Handicap-G1 winner, Honor Code.

Storm Cat was once more in the news in July when it was revealed in a story in Vanity Fair magazine that the company Crestview Genetics used his DNA to create two clones, both colts, born this year. Unfortunately, one colt died in a paddock accident. But the other is being raised as a possible genetic source for polo pony breeding, since he can't be registered as a Thoroughbred due to Jockey Club restrictions.

Proving few stallions in history can match the legacy of Pennsylvania-bred Storm Cat.

Blasts From the Past takes a look back at PA-Breds of distinction throughout history. The majority of the biographies were included in the PHBA's 50th year anniversary commemorative booklet, published in 1998.
